Health Passport

How to use

This Health Passport is designed to be a practical tool to share information about a young person's condition and support needs with their teachers.

Every condition and young person is different and a 'one size fits all' approach doesn't always work. This passport provides a personal approach to fit each young person's needs. Rather than focussing on complicated medical terms, it looks at how a young person is impacted and what can be put in place to support them on a day-to-day basis.
